Wimbledon Village is a village within London with the wide open spaces of Wimbledon Common on the doorstep. With an excellent and regular train service into Waterloo station, the area is very popular with people who commute into central London. Flats and houses for both sale and rent are very popular in all the locations we cover, whether for first time buyers, families moving to be close to the excellent schooling in the area or upsizing or downsizing within this fabulous area.

Living in Wimbledon

Set among handsome period buildings and open spaces, Wimbledon Village is unique to London.

It's blend of chic shops, cafes and bars, excellent amenities, and top-end private and state schools, make the area very popular for families.

Transport links to central London are one of Wimbledon's best kept secrets with around 13 trains per hour going into Waterloo (16 minutes). We also have the District and Northern line stations which makes travel to all parts of London very easy. The A3 road is 1.5 miles out of Wimbledon with access to central London and the M25 motorway, making travel to Gatwick and Heathrow airports relatively simple.

Often referred to as SW19, this leafy area of London has a distinct, relaxed atmosphere and is perhaps best known for one of the world's top sporting events; The Wimbledon Lawn Tennis Championships.

Wimbledon completes an important link with its neighbouring offices in Wandsworth, Clapham, Barnes and Richmond; which combine to provide unrivalled knowledge of the south London property market.
